Invitation to attend

It is with pleasure that we present the program for the Mining 2008 Resources Convention to be held at the Hilton Brisbane Hotel on 29 to 31 October, 2008.

Queensland is the place to be right now for explorers, with new discoveries and competition for new and existing mineral and energy resources.

There have been numerous announcements about mineral exploration and development activity as well as significant developments in the coal seam gas sector. The Queensland Government's Smart Exploration and Smart Mining Future Prosperity data acquisition programs are paying dividends with a surge in exploration activity in key regions of the State.

In July 2005 in the North-West Queensland Mineral Province (Mount Isa region), there were 411 granted EPMs covering 49,000 square kilometres and 214 EPM applications covering 39,000 square kilometres. By June 2008, following the release of Smart Exploration geophysical data, many research projects, the positive impacts of the Collaborative Drilling, Cluster Formation and Industry Network Initiatives plus the strategy of creating and repealing Restricted Areas, there has been an enormous surge in exploration activity in the area, with 733 granted EPMs covering 118,000 square kilometres and 597 EPM applications covering 119,000 square kilometres.

This is an increase in area of granted and application EPMs of 168% in just under three years. The Mount Isa region has the attention of the global exploration industry.

The area is hot, with ongoing exploration announcements by Kings Minerals, Copper Co, Cudoco and others, and significant resource upgrade announcements including Perylia's Mount Oxide project. Elsewhere in Queensland, Conquest's Mount Carlton project is shaping as a significant gold, silver and copper resource.

A similar story could be presented for the increased activity for coal seam gas, coal and oil and gas in the Bowen and Surat Basins. The coal and coal seam gas industries are booming and exploration and resource definition activity has ramped up significantly with several proposals on the drawing board for LNG production facilities.

Investment Focus

Every conference is different and Brisbane is no exception. We cover mining and energy companies, issues relating specifically to Queensland and most importantly investment.

We are working hard to provide the conference with a series of high net worth individuals for the purpose of investing in the resources industry and will be transporting investors to the event from the Gold Coast and Sunshine Coast as well as working with investment groups within Brisbane.

The Mining 2008 Resources Convention is a vital part of the Australia Resources calendar and is relevant, focused and most of all enjoyable!

We look forward to seeing you there.

Yours sincerely

Stewart McDonald

NEW AWARDS FOR 2008

The Mining 2008 Resources Convention is pleased to announce the introduction of two awards for this year's event:

- the 2008 QLD Explorer of the Year
- the 2008 QLD Miner of the Year

Both awards will be presented in recognition of excellence in the state's minerals sector and the outstanding contribution it is making towards Queensland's powerhouse economic growth.

The awards will be officially presented at the Patersons Securities Cocktail Party on Wednesday 29 October at the Jade Buddha Shadow Lounge. Winners will be decided by a team of experts and previewed in the October edition of the Gold & Minerals Gazette (an RIU publication).

CHINA MINING 2008

CHINA MINING 中国国际矿业大会

As one of the world's TOP 4 mining conferences, the CHINA MINING Congress provides the best channel and platform for mining companies to communicate and exchange new ideas. Issues such as development, investment policies, mining rights trading, exploration, technology and equipment, mining evaluation and consultancy and sustainable development are to be discussed. Last year, the CHINA MINING Congress attracted over 300 exhibitors, 10,000 professional visitors and 3,000 conference delegates from 45 countries.

The CHINA MINING Congress has four main parts - an exhibition (CHINA MINING EXPO), forum gala awards dinner and featured events. It has become a truly global mining event.

Date: November 11-13, 2008

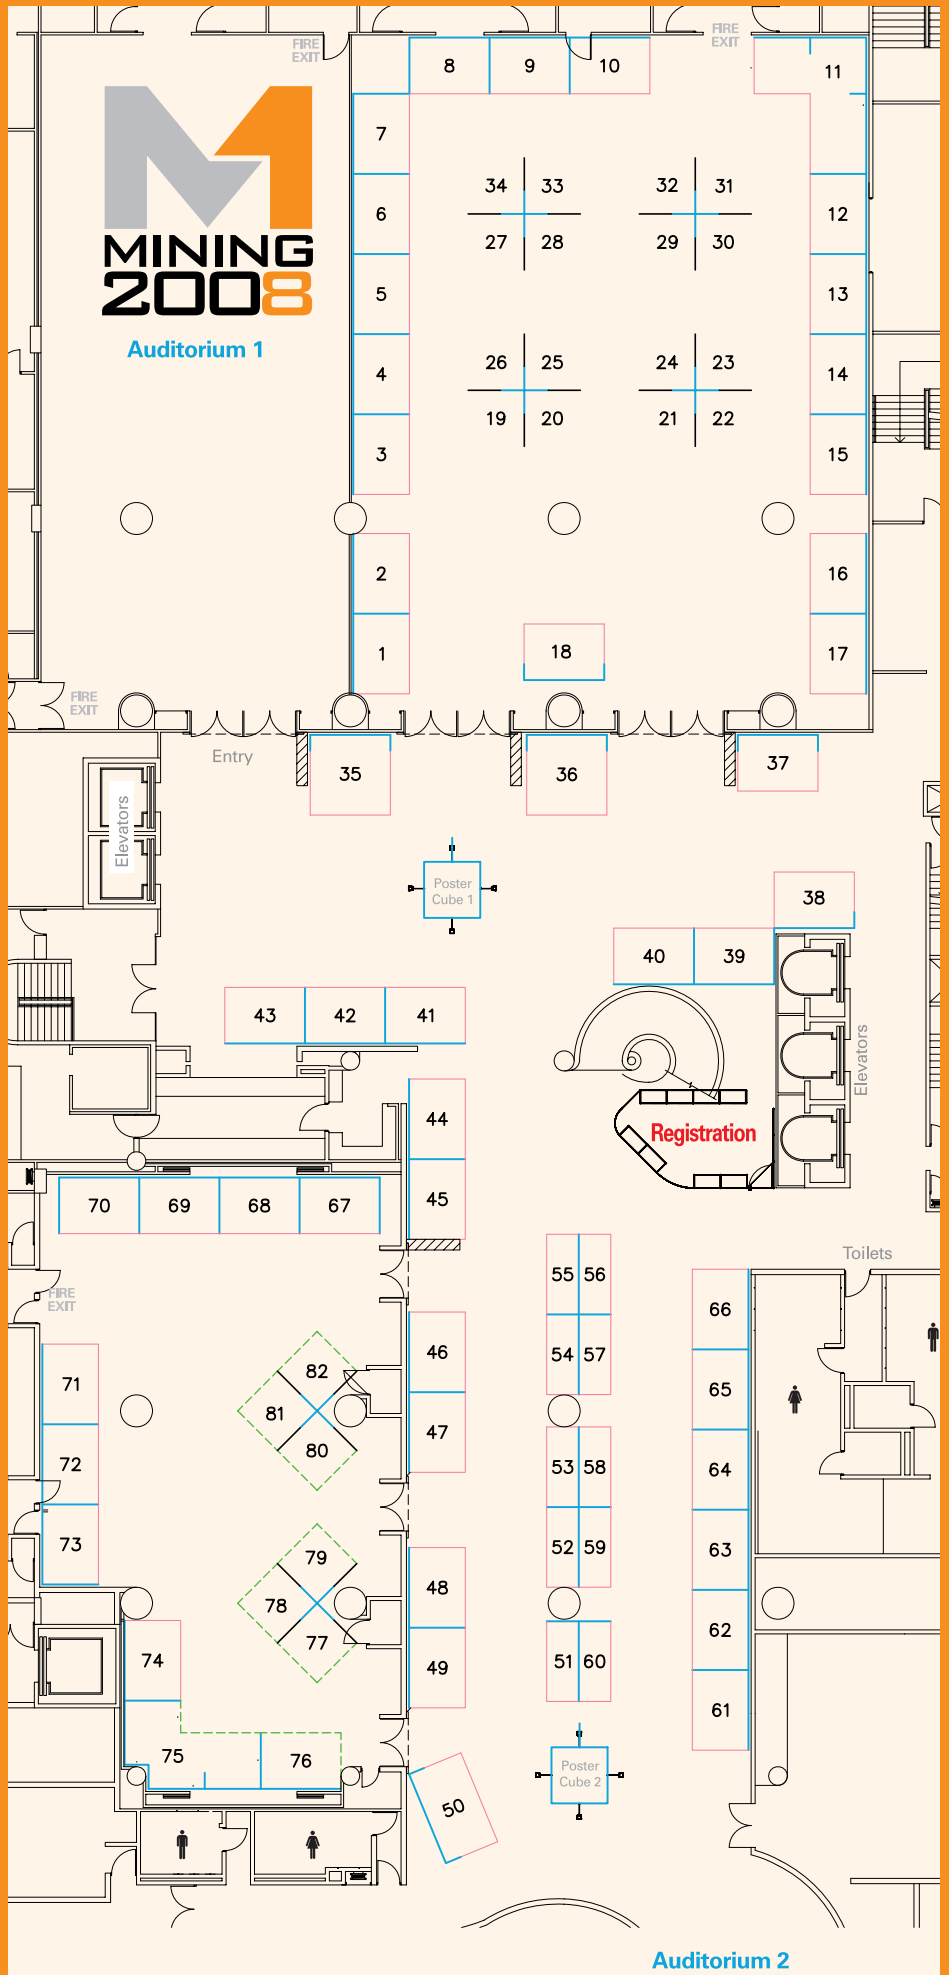

Venue: Beijing International Convention Center (BICC)

For more information on this event or to be part of the Australian Pavilion please contact Doug Bowie (Australian Agent for CHINA MINING) on +618 9388 2222 or email doug@verticalevents.com.au
